

(QUITE) APART FROM ACCEPT
ADVERTISE
BY VIRTUE OF
COUPLED WITH DESPITE DUE TO GIVEN IN LIGHT OF
IN SPITE OF
IN VIEW OF
ON ACCOUNT OF OWING TO
REGARDLESS OF
THERE IS NO ESCAPING

THE FACT THAT

+ clause (subject + verb)

You use the fact that instead of a simple that-clause either for emphasis or because the clause is the subject of your sentence.

- My family now accepts the fact that I don't eat sugar or bread.
- The fact that he had left proved to me that everything he'd said was true.