

Pay or Pay for?

AIEL

aprendeinglesenleganes.com

aprendeinglesenleganes.com 2nd edition

B2 FIRST

learn how to do
Key Word Transformation
exercises

PAY something

We use pay something or someone when we talk about what we or who we give money to. You pay a person, or you pay a bill or invoice. You pay money you owe for previously received services or goods:

- We always pay the phone bill on the 20th of the month.
- At the restaurant, you pay the cashier near the door.
- Mike bought a house because he got tired of paying her landlord.
- We paid the electricity bill. / We paid the rent.
- We paid £50.

aprendeinglesenleganes.com

PAY FOR something

We use pay for when we talk about the event or item we give money for and receive at the same time. Usually you pay for work, services or goods that you receive at the time of paying:

- We paid £500 for the room. / He paid for the meal.
- We got paid for our services. / We pay £40 for the Gym.
- I paid for the concert tickets online.