ADVANCED COMPARATIVES 2

C1 Advanced
C2 Proficiency

Progressive comparison

We can describe how something increases or decreases in intensity by repeating more or the same comparative adjective, with and between the forms:

- It gets more and more difficult to understand what is going on.
- House prices are getting higher and higher.

We can also use the adverb "increasingly"+ adjective to do the same.

- Doctors are growing increasingly concerned about his condition.
- Marketing techniques are becoming increasingly sophisticated.

Double comparatives

We use double comparatives with "the" to say that one situation leads to another. Note the use of the comma after the first clause.

- The more you read, the more you'll learn.
- The more I thought about it, the less I liked the idea.
- The less I see of him, the better!

We sometimes omit the verb be in the clauses:

• The more sophisticated the product, the more substantial the potential profit.

Contrastive comparison

When we contrast two related qualities, we always use more (not -er):

- Her eyes are more green than grey.
- His behaviour was more strange than suspicious.

We can also use not so much ... as or rather than:

- I'm not so much disappointed as sad.
- Her eyes are green rather than grey
- I'm not so much angry as relieved.
